

You're Ready to Launch!

Are you saying to yourself, "I feel like I've got everything I need to get started"? There's a good reason for that. It's because you do! After viewing this video series and utilizing the worksheets and resources provided, you have all the tools necessary to kick off a successful 90-Day Digital Giving Campaign.

The next videos in our series will discuss specifics that you should focus on during certain intervals of time over the course of your campaign. We'll guide you through everything ranging from setting early expectations, creating an impact report, and debriefing your staff on the overall experience.

You've put in the hard work to learn these strategies, and now it's time for that hard work to pay off. You've officially become the individual from the parable that was taught how to fish, so go feed your ministry!
